I can't think of anyone who has ever worked with, talked with, or even just said hello to John Goodman who doesn't say he's a true professional, and a great guy to work with, or just be around.

Some people feel a little stronger about him than others though.

At the Tumblr page, "Because John Goodman is Beautiful", they've taken their love for Goodman, or more specifically Goodman's angelic face, one step farther.

Here are a couple of previews of what you can expect to see at the above link. But, beware, what you have seen, you can not unsee!

Thanks(?) for the heads-up, and all responsibility for any resulting nightmares, goes to Mystery Date.

The payoff after the jump...
